

The T&C Traveler

TORONTO

VINTAGE IN CANADA

Many stylish Canadians are familiar with Lynda Latner's boutiques, selling vintage designer clothing, in the Holt Renfrew department stores in Montreal and Toronto (actresses Catherine Zeta-Jones and Renée Zellweger have shopped at the latter). But with the opening of her private Vintage Couture showroom in Toronto last May, collectors now have in-person access to Latner and her array of exceptional attire and accessories from the 1940s to the 1980s. It's the latest incarnation of her vintagecouture.com Web site and an intimate alternative to her boutiques. Located in her home in the city's Forest Hill neighborhood, Latner's by-appointment salon displays glamorous pieces from Balenciaga, Chanel, Pucci and other labels that she selects only for serious shoppers. 416-704-3160. -SALLY HORCHOW

